WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—Renewal of heavy enemy artillery fire on the Bataan Peninsula today indicated that the Japanese apparently are attempting to blast Gen. Douglas MacArthur's lines in preparation for the anticipated grand land assault now that Singapore has fallen.

In one of the briefest communiques in recent weeks, the war department reported only intermittent artillery fighting but spoke significantly of enemy aviation being "active throughout the day."

Estimate About 60,000 Captured At Singapore

By CHARLES A. SMITH

LONDON, Feb. 16.—British military authorities estimated today that about 60,000 Imperial troops were captured by the Japanese when Singapore fell.

They declared there was no evidence that any extensive evacuation of Imperial forces from Singapore preceded the surrender.

Lt. Gen. A. E. Percival, commander of the British forces in Singapore may have surrendered with his troops, it was stated.

Percival's last message to Gen. Sir Archibald Wavell, supreme commander of United Nations forces in the Southeast Pacific, was dispatched Sunday afternoon and received in London late yesterday.

This message stated that owing to heavy losses and shortages of water, food, ammunition and gasoline, it was impossible to carry on the defense of Singapore any longer.

Suffered Heavy Losses

Authorities in London said they believed the Imperial forces in the fallen far eastern bastion suffered heavy losses in material and equipment.

They thought evacuation of women and children had been "almost" (Continued On Page Two)

LONDON, Feb. 16.—Prime Minister Winston Churchill and his war cabinet faced a grave political test today as the nation recoiled from a black week of conflict which culminated in the loss of Singapore.

Fall of the great Far Eastern bastion to the Japanese was announced by Churchill himself in a worldwide broadcast in which he decried the heavy and far-reaching military defeat and warned of "many misfortunes" still to come.

Two Highway Employees Hurt

Men Ashing Roads Are Injured Over Week-End
When Struck By Cars

WILLIAM BOOK
REPORTED SERIOUS

Two employees of the Pennsylvania department of highways, who were engaged in ashing the highways over the week-end, suffered injuries in two different locations when struck by autos traveling along the highway. One of them, William D. Book, aged 60 years, of 1213 Smith street, is in a critical condition. The other injured man is Thomas Nesbitt, aged 67, of R. F. D. No. 3. Both are in the Jameson Memorial hospital.

Book was struck by an automobile driven by Paul Petro, of R. F. D. No. 6, about a quarter of a mile east of the city on Route 422, at 12:30 o'clock Sunday morning. As the ashing truck approached the curve at Weingartner's, the highway department employee came upon a car which had skidded across the highway. Book went to his assistance and scattered ashes on the roadway, enabling him to leave the scene. As he was walking back to the truck, the car driven by Petro struck him, knocking him to the side of the highway and continuing on, collided with the ashing truck.

An ambulance was summoned and removed Book to the Jameson Memorial hospital, where it was found he had sustained a compound fracture of the right leg, several broken ribs, and other injuries.

Mr. Nesbitt was standing on the back of an ashing truck operating on the New Wilmington road, near the Field club, at 9 o'clock Sunday morning, when a car containing a group of Pittsburgh basketball players returning from Farrell, Pa., driven by Charles Lowe, colored, of Pittsburgh, collided with the truck, hurling Nesbitt off the truck. No broken bones were found, when he was removed to the hospital, but he is said to be suffering from severe bruises and shock.

(BULLETIN)

WILLEMSTAD, Curacao, Feb. 16.—The first enemy attack on any point in the western hemisphere occurred today when a submarine opened fire on the oil refinery of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey on the Dutch West Indies Island of Aruba and torpedoed four tankers there and at Willemstad.

No casualties on land resulted from the shelling, but the loss of life aboard the torpedoed ships has not been ascertained.

Three tankers were attacked at Aruba and one near the harbor of Willemstad. The latter was badly damaged but did not sink. One man was injured.

Patrolled by United States soldiers sent there to protect the huge Standard Oil refinery, believed to be the largest in the western hemisphere, Aruba is a small island in the Dutch Indies group, lying west of Curacao itself some 40 miles north of the coast of Venezuela.

The chief industry of the islands is the refining of oil, the bulk of which is brought from the Lake Maracaibo basin of Venezuela.

Slightly Damaged

Investigation showed that the refinery was only slightly damaged in the daring attack and no one was injured. There was no indication as to whether any immediate attempt was made to find and sink the submarine.

Some Figures On Draft Registration Will Be Allowed

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—The War Department today amended its order prohibiting publication of the number of men now being registered under the new draft law.

Previously the War Department had sent a memorandum to the national selective service headquarters saying that the number of men registered must be regarded as "restricted military information."

However, army officials revised the order today, saying that state and local figures on the number of men registered may be made public, but not a national total.

The state's 422 local selective service boards opened at 7 a. m. and will function officially until 9 p. m., although all registrants in line at the closing hour will be accommodated.

Schools, taverns and liquor stores were closed for the day by a proclamation issued by Gov. Arthur H. James. Taverns may open after 9 p. m.

Lottery Next Month

National selective service officials said that none of the new registrants would be inducted into military service until the present list of 1-A men is exhausted. A lottery will be held at Washington next month to determine the order men will be summoned.

Boards were open throughout the state yesterday to enable men to register without being forced to leave their jobs temporarily. There were many instances where fathers and sons appeared together and signed on the dotted line for possible military duty. Veterans of World (Continued On Page Seven)

RANGOON, Feb. 16.—Japanese forces driving on Rangoon, vital terminus of the Burma Road supply line to China, were reported early today to have cracked the British defense lines at several points on the west bank of the Salween river. Their objective was Thabon, a point on the rail line from Martaban to Rangoon. Thabon is 45 miles northwest of Martaban. (A Vichy radio broadcast heard in London claimed two Japanese columns are advancing toward Papun, in Burma, which is situated west of the Salween river and about 100 miles north and slightly west of Martaban.)

BATAVIA, Feb. 16.—Direct bomb hits that blasted two Japanese cruisers and five transports crowded with Nipponese troops were reported by the Netherlands East Indies high command today.

A communique said the hits were scored by Dutch, United States and British planes which attacked a strong Jap convoy in the Sanku Straits between Sumatra and Bangka Islands.

The same war bulletin conceded that the Japanese have succeeded in occupying the rich Sumatra oil-producing center of Palembang, but only after all oil installations there were destroyed in one of history's most drastic applications of the "scorched earth" policy.

Japanese occupation of Palembang was carried out despite strong resistance, the communique said. It added that numerous Japanese troop landings are continuing on the island of Sumatra, where Dutch forces are putting up a bitter fight.

According to the communique, one of the Jap cruisers hit by the defending planes was set on fire. The communique, issued by the (Continued On Page Seven)

Controversy On Reform Measures

Senate Foresees Clash On Issue

Deluge Of Mail From Country On O. C. D. Activities Is Reported

DEMAND FRILLS BE ABANDONED

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—The senate today headed into a controversy, both behind the scenes and in the open, on the question of curtailment or abandonment of reform measures during the war.

The issue, which was projected into new prominence with the demand of Sen. Tidings (D) Md. for streamlining of the government as a part of an intensive war effort, admittedly produced a sharp clash of opinion.

Some senators declined to discuss the issue publicly, but said that discussion has become so acute that an effort must be made to reconcile differences. Other members reported a deluge of mail from the country which began with House criticism of office of civilian defense activities, demanding that the government abandon all "frills" in favor of a win-the-war program.

Must Curtail Reform
"If the emphasis on reform is not curtailed we may lose this war," declared Sen. Tydings.

"I have been surprised at the reaction to my speech. I expected a great deal of criticism, but instead I have received letters and telegrams from all over the country agreeing with the thought."

Sen. Pepper (D) Fla., defending Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt's work in O. C. D. and the general program, charged advocates of curtailment of reform with hampering the war program.

"I am somewhat troubled by the attitude which seems to be so general around Washington, which apparently regards anything done for the health or uplift of the underprivileged as a furbelow," he said.

"I think the contrary is true. Moreover if we are not fighting for these things then I have misunderstood the purpose of the whole struggle. If we forget about human welfare during the war, it is a good sign it will not be remembered after the war. That's the weakness of the democratic case right now."

Sen. La Follette (D) Wis., contended that services of such agencies as the Farm Security administration, National Youth administration and Civilian Conservation Corps must be continued during the war to aid the under-privileged.

In the Antipodes, until we can muster our forces to send it hurtling back to where it came."

"These activities grapple three-fourths of the globe," Knox declared, explaining that the over-all war effort demands control of the seas. "Not merely the surface of the seas, but the air above."

The mighty battleship was sponsored by Mrs. Lister Hill, wife of the Alabama senator.

Mrs. Hill smashed a bottle of bubbling champagne against the vessel's trim and sturdy bow, bands blared martial music and the powerful man-o-war splashed out into the deep as a throng of thousands roared in unison.

Secretary Knox, commenting in his address upon the construction, pointed out that the ship symbolizes America's position at the forefront of naval construction.

"By use of welding and other means in this vessel," he said, "we have so decreased her structural weight as to add considerably to her capacity for guns, armor and ammunition."

Nine Months Ahead
The secretary said the Alabama was launched nine months ahead of schedule. Speed of the construction work, he said, is a "grand record" that will be recognized by rewards of the navy's "E" pennant, a symbol of building efficiency.

Launching of the Alabama marks the end of the "defense era" in the nation's naval building program, Knox asserted.

"Now we are in a new era," he said. He called it the "war era." "Ships will pour forth from yards in ever increasing quantities—ships which will bring us supremacy at sea—ships which will bring us victory," he proclaimed.

In addition to Secretary Knox, speakers included Gov. Frank M. Dixon of Alabama, Gov. Colgate W. Darden, Jr., of Virginia, Rear Admiral Manley H. Simons, commander of the fifth naval district, and Rear Admiral Felix X. Gygax, commander of the navy yard.

The vessel is 680 feet long, 103 feet and two inches in the beam, and has a draft of 34 feet.

Naval authorities said the Alabama is designed to travel at a speed in excess of 27 knots.

Guns, to be equipped soon, will be up-to-the-minute implements of destruction. Armament will include nine 16-inch cannons mounted in three main turrets; modern secondary broadside guns, and the latest in anti-aircraft weapons. The Alabama, furthermore, is equipped with heavy protective armor, making it literally a floating fortress.

The ship was authorized by congress in an act dated March 27, 1934; the contract for building was let April 1, 1939, and the keel laid Feb. 1, 1940.

The U. S. S. Alabama is the last of four capital ships of the same design. Others are the Massachusetts, South Dakota and Indiana, the latter being launched last Nov. 21. Today's launching is the sixth since the naval expansion program was inaugurated with the construction of the North Carolina and the Washington.

Launched nine months ahead of schedule, the Alabama is the first capital ship to sweep down the ways at the navy yard here in nearly 50 years.

MOSCOW REPORTS GERMAN COUNTER ATTACKS BEATEN

coming up against the defense zone which the Germans fortified probably as a base for their spring offensive," Red Star said. "It is not a continuous line, but a chain of deep fortified positions, covered by many smaller ones. These chains must be broken before the Russians can reach the enemy's rear defenses."

"The method of advance is to send engineers ahead to blow up the blockhouses and pillboxes to prepare a way for the infantry, as these positions are too strong to be by-passed safely."

A new high command announcement said fighting continued throughout the night.

A supplementary war bulletin said Russian troops liberated several additional localities on the front west of Moscow and wiped out 1,000 Germans.

Repulse Counter-Attacks
Red Army forces on the southwestern front were credited with repulsing a number of counterattacks and recapturing several villages in battles that brought heavy enemy losses.

The Communist newspaper Pravda reported the main Nazi counter-attack on the southwestern front ended in a German retreat and that the "enemy's losses in manpower and equipment were considerable."

Pravda added the Germans were "exerting utmost efforts to check the Russian advance."

This method of attack, it was believed in Moscow military quarters, was used by the Red army columns which have been reported operating in White Russia, for behind the main German line on the west-central front. The eastern borders of White Russia are 45 miles west of Smolensk, which apparently has been by-passed. Some reports said the Russian advance was within 75 miles of the old Polish frontier in the Vilna district.

Big Nazi Losses
A special broadcast from the central front said: "Our troops are continuing the offensive in fierce battles of annihilation. Germans are suffering heavy losses. One unit alone killed 1,170 in the last three days. Our troops are repelling enemy attacks and destroying enemy strongholds one after another."

Reports from the Leningrad sector said 2,850 Germans had been slain in fighting there in the past two days. The newspaper Izvestia claimed that only 600 men escaped of a total of 12,000 in the 258th German infantry division which was wiped out in the battle which has carried the Russian advance deep behind Smolensk.

In reporting Russian penetration of the German fortified winter defense line, Red Star said:

"Our forces made contact with the German defense lines which were built and fortified over a period of several months. The line was broken through in a number of places."

Hitler Needs Reserves
Military authorities in Moscow said Hitler had undoubtedly expected these defenses to easily hold back the Russian advance, while behind them preparations were made for his spring offensive. But the Russian drive attained such momentum that he had to call on the powerful reserves of rested veterans who were being saved for the spring drive.

But even the use of reinforcements had not stopped the Soviet advance, which was said to have carried more than 30 miles along the important Smolensk front, which is the pivot point of the German defenses in the central area.

(The Vichy radio reported a Russian advance from Sevastopol, in the Crimea, following an intensive artillery fire. The Soviet attack was said to be "powerful.") completed" prior to the surrender of Singapore and also that some evacuation of wounded soldiers had been carried out.

Imperial forces in Singapore consisted of the 18th British division, two-thirds of the Australian 8th division and the 9th and 11th Indian divisions, plus some fortress troops.

Indications were that the Australians were severely weakened by casualties even before the Singapore stand itself.

Meanwhile, the situation in Sumatra gave cause for some concern in view of reported new Japanese landings. In Burma, the outlook remained confused although it was confirmed there have been no further Japanese attacks on the Salween river front.

There is a good deal of activity in Libya but no indication that the main battle has yet been joined.

Interment will be in St. Mary's cemetery.

REGISTER NEW GROUP FOR WAR SERVICE TODAY

promptly at 7 o'clock, and those in city and boroughs in particular were soon crowded with many standing in line waiting to register.

May Register 7500

In the neighborhood of 7,500 are expected to register in Lawrence county. They will be classified in the near future, and will likely be sent questionnaires some time next month.

The registration rooms will be open until 9 o'clock tonight, and all men who fall within the age classifications specified are warned to present themselves and register as soon as possible.

Quite a few of those registering today are men who saw service in World War No. 1, and many of those enrolling are men who have sons in the service. In the cases of some of the youths just turning 20, they went along with their fathers to register.

inch of snow fell, causing highways to become very slippery and resulting in a number of accidents, several of which were fairly serious. The snow melted by Sunday evening, when the mercury rose, and this morning, quite a steady rain was falling.

Among the early birds to register for military service Monday morning at the offices of Local Board One in the Union Trust Company building was George Moore, director of the American Legion Band. George served as a sergeant in the U. S. Marine Corps in World War I. Quite a few of those registering are World War veterans, some of whom have sons already in the service.

Mrs. William Glitch, of 222 East Falls street, on Saturday, Valentine Day, received a dozen roses from her son, Electrician Mate William Glitch, U. S. Navy, aboard an aircraft carrier, somewhere in the Pacific. The order for the flowers was transferred to a local florist from Honolulu. On the card accompanying the flowers was the inscription, "To my best girl."

Sunday afternoon on East Washington street, a young man with a boy friend at his side, were out for a buggy ride. The driver wore a "top gallant" hat, with a white horse about the size of a "Clydesdale" in the shafts. The companion disembarked at Oak street, and had quite a time getting out between the front and rear wheel, the driver being unable to turn the buggy for better alighting, fearing the rushing past of automobile traffic.

Many fathers and sons are registering for the draft today. Among them is V. I. Mandich of Bessemer, who registered this morning while his son registered at Penn State where he is a student.

FAITH WHO CAN EXPLAIN?

When a business concern opens up his establishment on the new time, he used anywhere from 5 to 100 lights, one hour extra in the morning. If he should for any reason decide to go to bed one hour earlier at night, he would probably turn out two or three lights in his home. Is this saving electricity?

When we had this time before we never found anyone who could explain why we had it or what we had it for. Is there anybody in the country who can explain now why we have it, or what it is for.

Relief At Last For Your Cough

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ-laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)

CHARITY BALL DRAWS CROWD TO FIELD CLUB

Between the hours of 10 and 2 on Saturday evening the New Castle Field club, which for this occasion was transformed into a South American setting, more than 125 couples danced to the strains of Murphy's orchestra at the annual Charity Ball sponsored by the Junior Guild of the Jameson Memorial hospital.

A breakfast was served to the guests in the early hours of the morning at the conclusion of dancing.

Arrangements were in charge of Mrs. John McIlwraith and Mrs. Roger W. Rowland, to whom belongs credit for the success of the affair, together with their committee: Mrs. William Hinkson, Mrs. John Barrett, Mrs. Richard Rentz, Mrs. Ralph Hamilton, Mrs. S. W. Perry Jr., Mrs. Ross Rosenberg, Mrs. Lauren Thayer, Mrs. William Wallace, Mrs. William Young, Mrs. James B. Matthews, Mrs. Paul Jarvis, Mrs. Pearson Furst and Mrs. Joseph Green.

Preceding the dance, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart P. Poltz were hosts at a formal dinner party for 80 guests, who were seated at tables for eight and ten in the dining room of the Field club.

Floral decorations were of spring flowers, yellow daffodils, mimosa, and blue iris predominating.

On the mantel of the ballroom a striking V for Victory sign illuminated with red, white and blue bulbs gave a patriotic touch to the decorations.

Among the out-of-town guests at the Poltz's dinner were Dr. and Mrs. Bruce Clark of Pittsburgh and Dr. and Mrs. William Carlisle of Dubois who were house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Johnson Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Frushour of Pittsburgh, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stout of Coraopolis Heights, who were houseguests of Dr. and Mrs. Paul H. Wilson.

CRAIG-MORTON WEDDING AT MT. JACKSON CHURCH

Beautiful in its simplicity was the wedding which took place Saturday evening at 7:45 o'clock in the Mt. Jackson church, uniting in marriage Eleanor Lucile Craig, daughter of the late John H. and Mrs. Craig, of Mt. Jackson, and Oliver Allen Morton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde H. Morton, of Sharon.

Before the altar, empaneled with ferns, palms and peach gladioli, the vows were exchanged, with the Rev. Ray G. Woodburn officiating. He used the impressive single ring service.

As strains of the Lohengrin Wedding March sounded, the bride entered on the arm of her uncle, George R. McClelland, of New Castle, who gave her away. She wore a white slipper satin gown, made entrain, and her finger-tip veil was caught in halo effect, with orange blossoms. Gardenias and white gladioli made up her arm bouquet, and her only jewelry was a strand of pearls. For "something old" the bride carried her mother's wedding kerchief.

Miss Margaret Craig, only sister of the bride, as maid of honor, wore a poudre blue embossed taffeta gown, and she carried pink rosebuds.

Robert Hoagland, of Sharon, served as best man, and ushering were Douglas Casbard and Russell Adler, of Sharon.

Preceding the ceremony Wilbur Chambers at the Solovox, and Harold Henderson at the piano, contributed a program of nuptial music. Following a congratulatory period a reception was held for relatives and friends numbering upwards of 60, at the bride's home. Pouring at the prettily appointed wedding table, pink and white tones predominating, were Mrs. Robert Hoagland and Miss Ruth Southworth. Aides included Miss Betty Shustet, Mrs. G. R. McClelland, Mrs. Edgar Byers and Mrs. Willie Craig.

A blue crepe dress, torso style, and a black velvet coat were worn by the bride for going away. Her accessories were carried out in black patent leather.

Mrs. Morton graduated from the Mt. Jackson high school and Jameson Memorial Hospital School of Nursing. She is now affiliated with the C. H. Buhl hospital in Sharon.

Mr. Morton graduated from Sharon high and attended Youngstown college. He is affiliated with the Westinghouse company in Sharon. After a trip to Washington, D. C., and points of interest in the East, the couple will be "at home" to friends at 24 Smith avenue, Sharon.

KUPPLE-KARD-KLUB AT KING RESIDENCE

Members of the Kupple-Kard Klub met Saturday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Ernest King on Thorpe street, with cards as the pastime. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hamilton were the prize winners. Following play, the hosts served an appetizing Valentine lunch at a colorfully appointed table.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gardner of East New Castle, will entertain on Saturday, February 28, at their home.

MISS THEDA W. GOOCH BRIDE OF C. A. HENNON

Theda Wiley Gooch, daughter of Mrs. Bertha Gooch and the late Fred Gooch, Maryland avenue, New Castle, vowed to tradition when she chose Saturday, February 14, for her marriage to Charles Arthur Hennon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hennon of Templeana avenue, this city.

The marriage was performed in the Hoover Heights Tabernacle in the presence of a large assemblage. Their pastor, the Rev. Russell Schillinger, read the double ring service.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Clyde Hennon, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, played several wedding selections, including "O Promise Me," "I Love You Truly" and "The Sweet Story of David." Lohengrin's Wedding March announced the approach of the bride, who chose a gown of white slipper satin, with fitted bodice, made with full skirt extending into a long train. Her tulle veil was entrain, "ascended" at a matching sweetheart cap caught with clusters of seed pearls. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom, and on her right hand she wore a diamond, a gift of her father, which answered the "something old" for her flowers the bride carried a white Bible showered with gardenias, and for her traditional "something borrowed" she held an old family handkerchief, and for luck she carried a "six pence" tucked in her bride's slipper.

Her maid of honor, Miss Velma Hennon of this city, a sister of the bridegroom, wore a gown of ocean blue taffeta, long length, complimented with a corsage of pink rosebuds. Theda's cousins, Ida Wiley and Vivian VanGorder of Ellwood City, were bridesmaids. They appeared in identical rose taffeta gowns, made similar to that worn by the matron of honor, and corsages of pink rosebuds.

Mr. Hennon asked Mervin Wiley of Ellwood City, first cousin of the bride, to be his best man. Glenn Stetler, his cousin, and Ralph Kroeninger were ushers.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the bride's home. Serving were Mrs. Lee Whitmore of Ellwood City, Mrs. Jack Allison of New Castle and Mrs. Pernilla Fishburn of New Castle.

Later, the couple departed on a honeymoon.

Mrs. Hennon, a graduate of Slippery Rock State Teachers college, is a teacher in the Clemenmore school of New Castle. Mr. Hennon is employed with the Chicago-Illinois Corporation in the offices.

After February 17, Mr. and Mrs. Hennon will be at home to their friends at 938 Maryland avenue, New Castle.

BUILDERS' VALENTINE DANCE AT CATHEDRAL

The informal Valentine dance given by the New Castle Order of the Builders in the ballroom of the Scottish Rite Cathedral on Saturday evening, was greatly enjoyed by the crowd of young people who attended.

Dancing was from 9 to 12, with music furnished by "Hud" James Westminster college orchestra.

A color scheme of red and white, and large red hearts, carried out the Valentine theme for the decorations, of which Jack Penman, Paul Rowland, Dick Flicker and Lawrence Cromie were in charge.

General chairman was Allen Barnett.

Bill Eckles, Jack McKeever, Sam Price and Wilbur Spangler formed the ticket committee. James Fleming, Earl Hammond and Jack McKeever were in charge of programs.

Sgt. William Ayers, who is stationed at Fort Meade, Md., and home on leave, was among the guests.

Chaperones were the advisory board.

Cavalier Club

A theatre party was enjoyed yesterday by the Cavalier club members at a local theatre. Following their hosts, Mrs. Clara Faglia of Loveville, O., entertained at a tea room where lunch was served. The club token was won by Mrs. Louis Mastrangelo.

Norma Thatcher Is Bride of G. Biddle

A quiet wedding ceremony took place Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock in the parsonage of the Methodist church at Pulaski, when Miss Norma Thatcher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Thatcher, became the bride of George Biddle, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Biddle of R. D. 6.

They were unattended, and Rev. J. G. Cousins, pastor, officiated using the single ring ceremony.

For her marriage, the bride was attired in a navy blue ensemble with accessories in luggage tan. Her shoulder corsage was gardenias.

The bride, who has been with the J. C. Penny company, is a graduate of Union High with the class of '41, and the bridegroom graduated from Princeton High in the year of '37. He also attended New Castle Business college, and is affiliated with the J. C. Penny company here.

Upon returning from a trip to Canada and other points of interest, Mr. and Mrs. Biddle will take up residence in their newly furnished apartment at 415 Court street.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

MOVING HARDSHIP TO CHILDREN

In a certain large city it was found, a few years ago, that nearly one-third of the families of the city moved in the course of a year. Though in towns and small cities, not so many as a third of the population ordinarily move during normal times, there are many places in the United States where more than half the families have moved during the last six months.

Much of the moving in connection with defense is, inevitably, into more congested areas. This means more hampering in homes, less space for play, and often sadly overcrowded schools for the children.

Changes Hard For Child

The moving of the family may bring many problems to the children over two or three years of age. They must leave their old playmates and play places and go where there are new ones. While occasionally the new playmates prove more desirable and companionable, they generally do not. Just to meet new playmates may be a very serious ordeal, particularly for the timid child.

If he did not learn to get on happily with playmates in the old neighborhood, he will probably find it still harder in the new. If he had not learned to defend himself, fighting his own battles and settling his own quarrels before, how much harder will his adjustments be in the new community.

Then, as he enters a new school, the task of getting adapted to all the new children, the new ways of the classroom and playground may be a severe one. The books he must use and the lessons he must learn may be much harder than those he was accustomed to. Just being different might make them seem harder.

School Adjustments

In some cases children must attend two or more different schools in a single term. In the upper grades and high school, the social adjustments and the disturbing emotions related to them may, for the moving child, exceed anything you and I can imagine.

I do wish that more parents, who have to move, would grow keenly aware of all these problems and do their utmost to be considerate of the children.

Some fine teachers, especially in the upper grades and high school, induce their pupils to form a committee or to appoint one person of their group to help each new member of the class to get acquainted with the ways of the new school, and act as a kind of big brother or sister to the recruit. This is one of the finest expressions of friendship and democracy I can think of. I wonder why the plan is not more often used in Sunday schools.

Requires Self-Reliance

Clearly, those children who have from early years learned to be self-reliant and to get along well with other children of their age, suffer least when the family moves.

Solving Parent Problems
Q. How many hours of sleep should a child six years old have?
A. About 12 hours. Anyone may have, without cost, a chart giving desirable amount of sleep for children at various age levels, by writing me at 235 East 45th street, New York City, enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp.

NEED AND LUXURY
Said Need to pretty Luxury: I guess you've got to go! There's nothing left for you to do, and I'll think you know. You're only fit for hard times, when hardships must be borne.

"I'll give people out of bed and off to work at morn."

They're coming back to me again, the people one and all. I'll tell them how to do without the comforts, large and small. I'll harden them to hurt and pain. I'll strengthen them for care. Instead of idleness and ease, I'll give fatigue to bear.

You're through, Miss Pretty Luxury, and all your fancy ways. The call is now for stamina to brave these troubled days. The call is now for character, and everybody knows.

The lap of luxury is not the place where courage grows.

'Tis back they come once more to me, old stern-faced, wrinkled Need.

I'll give them more and more to do, and less to them I'll feed. I'll walk them where they used to ride, I'll rouse them with the sun.

And they'll be men and women by the time this war is won.

DEBT OF 100 BILLIONS

That proposed $100,000,000,000 debt ceiling, hoisted from the $65,000,000,000 ceiling now in force, can be but a temporary Congressional restriction regardless of what the future holds. President Roosevelt forecast a public debt of $110,000,000,000 by July 1, 1943, in his budget message last month. And the war continuing, obligations of the government will mount by tens of billions during ensuing years.

Should the war happily end sooner than anyone now can hope that it will, the debt rise undoubtedly would slow down but still would continue to accumulate. It is recognized that the transition from war production to peace production will be costly, particularly in its unemployment phase, just as the transition from peace production to war production is costly now.

New York City, where employment is concentrated mostly in consumer goods manufacture and service industries, has 400,000 unemployed and expects a peak of 600,000 before that metropolis can be converted to war functions. At the end of the conflict unemployment may be even greater, with consequent government expenditures heavier.

Service on a debt of $100,000,000,000 will cost nearly $3,000,000,000 a year as some of the very low interest issues are offset by others bearing up to 4 per cent. And this does not include the total debt cost. The government is spending social security money as it comes in, replacing it with interest-bearing bonds. As social security payments increase, the government will be obliged to pay out additional billions annually.

The fiscal obligation of the United States is tremendous, it is increasing and it will continue for many years. Realistic citizens will face that fact.

It is not unusual to hear that a man has lost his money on the last horses. But the fact is, that he loses it on horses that are not fast.

After reading the speech which Hitler makes each year to his comrades in Berlin we are of the opinion that his chief trouble is that he forgets to change his oil.

There is a lot of fussing about the way the liquor laws are run in Pennsylvania. There is also a lot of fuss when some birds drink it.

No doubt there are people who do not know what an enemy alien is. Some who are, no doubt, don't know that they are enemy aliens.

Then there was the bachelor who was sick so long he began to look like a married man.

An Indian tribe in Oregon is starting to buy its second million dollars worth of defense stamps. They don't want anything worse than they have gone through.

IN OTHER WORDS
Professor's Daughter: "Circumstances compel me to decline a marital arrangement with a man of such inferior pecuniary resources."
Student Suitor: "Er, ah—I don't get you."

Professor's Daughter: "That's it, exactly!"

"I'll bet a coat of tan would be becoming to you, girlie."

"Oh, thanks, you darling boy, but I'd rather have ermine."

SOME RIDE
Johnny Bull—We have some very large birds in England. Why, once while I was standing in a zoological garden, I saw a man come in on an eagle.

Yankee Tourist—Brother, that's nothing. Once, while standing in a ball park, I saw a player go out on a fly.

Historical note on journalistic brains: The N. Y. Times in 1860 pleaded for imports of English sparrows to eat multitudes of "measuring worms" on shade trees.

Yes, the British are suffering in Libya—for want of the tanks we didn't build because there was more profit in cars.

"Does this lipstick come off easily," asked a girl at the cosmetics counter. "Not if you put up a fight," the clerk advised.

When you think you have troubles, just think of our men in the army who have to work 24 hours a day if necessary, and the pay is $21 per month.

THESE MOTHERS
A modern young miss came to visit at her grandmother's house wearing a fashionable backless evening frock.

Grannie lectured her. "It's shameless! I dread to think what your mother would say if she saw you in that dress."

The young miss smiled. "I dread it too," she said. "You see, she just bought it for herself."

Answer: My diagnosis of your friend's defect is that it is due to timidity rather than rudeness. It sounds to me as though she has been a solitary girl reared with a fair family of boys, who during adolescence are characteristically scornful of courtesies because they consider them "sissy" and "soft."

It is natural for a girl reared in a refined family of sisters to acquire the niceties of etiquette. When introduced to one of your friends, she should respond "I am very glad to meet you" and when receiving an invitation she should say: "I'll be delighted to go. I certainly appreciate your asking me."

Such awkward responses as you quote are usually due to the same thing—that makes a young boy simply tug at his cap whereas he should remove it completely when saluting a lady.

A TENSE MOMENT

Charles and his pal had gone to a country church one hot summer day. They sat right behind a very baldheaded man, who promptly went to sleep as soon as the preacher got well started on his sermon. A wasp came flying in through the open window, alighting on the man's head. The man slept on. The wasp walked around, stroking its legs with its wings. How the boys watched it! Not satisfied on the man's head, the wasp flew down on the man's bare neck. And the boys watched for its next move! The wasp quietly flew out of the window. The boys drew a long breath.

Rastus—We is, sir, but we had to postpone the meeting 'cause the Grand All-Powerful, Invincible, Most Supreme, Unconquerable Potentate done got beat up by his wife.

Say Solons Don't Look Far Enough Ahead
Mrs. Roosevelt's Remark Stirs Congress
Days Following First World War Recalled

By CHARLES P. STEWART

(Central Press Columnist)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—Mrs. Roosevelt's suggestion that maybe America's general public is looking more alertly into the future than certain congressmen are doesn't set very well with some of the national lawmakers. They complain that the first lady's opinion gives virtually official weight to her utterances and yet she isn't in the least officially responsible for them.

Nevertheless, there's considerable wondering on Capitol Hill if she isn't right in her prediction that the men who have the present war to fight will refuse to tolerate a subsequent boom, crash and depression period such as followed the last conflict.

Her forecast is that, upon peace's return they're going to insist on employment to support themselves and that the government will have to see that it's provided—or else, so to speak.

Supposing that, despite all warnings, we do have a post-war boom, crash and depression, like the previous series of them, it isn't at all clear what the government will be able to do toward counteracting 'em. New Dealers to be sure, maintain that their social and economic measures got us out of our 1920's and early 1930's hard times simply wore off in the ordinary course of nature, without the New Deal's remedies having had much to do with the improvement.

Be that as it may, it's a fact that, in this instance, we're experimenting in advance with preventive medicine that wasn't even given a trial at World Conflict No. 1's start.

It Just Happened

What was due to happen afterward wasn't given a thought then. When we began to inflate, we simply inflated. That is, we boomed and all authorities agree that a boom leads up to a crash and depression as inevitably as our seasons succeed one another.

Now we're administering inflationary preventive prescriptions as we can make the patient take 'em.

Nobody disputes that the treatment's correct in theory. The only question is whether or not the dose will prove efficacious. Naturally we can only answer that question by observation of subsequent developments.

If we really don't inflate materially we'll know that economic doctors of Leon Henderson's school were correct as to the dosage they're pumping into us. If we inflate, anyway, until we burst, we'll know the other thing.

And if the stuff does work satisfactorily, why won't it begin to look as if we ought to have a couple of wars per generation?—provided we can't cut 'em out altogether.

It's a commonplace that a generation that's had a war has had enough, but that the next generation, not having been through it and consequently having no recollection of its horrors, and the almost worse horrors of its aftermath, wants one for the sake of the experience, and plunges into one, with no notion of what it's bound to wind up in.

World War No. 1 was a sample of it, so far as the United States was concerned.

We hadn't had a war of any consequence then more recently than the War of Secession, which was followed by a ferocious spell of hard times, but hardly anyone was still alive who remembered 'em. Consequently nothing was done toward preventing a similar spell at World War No. 1's end, and it came automatically.

Depression Still Vivid
At today's juncture, though, 1920's depression remains perfectly fresh in the memory of everybody except the very youngest of us.

Hence all the precautions we're attempting.

Later, with peace reestablished, we'll learn how effective they've been.

To date they're pure theory with such folk as Leon Henderson. If Leon proves to have theorized incorrectly, modifications will be necessary to get the desired results next time.

Only, if still another entirely new generation's on the job when that time comes, it'll be as inexperienced as we were when World War No. 1 caught us.

Evidently two wars per generation are required to educate us.

We know today what happens when war ends but we haven't had a chance yet to determine definitely how to KEEP it from happening. This war, and Leon Henderson, ought to give us some valuable hints on the subject. It can't be done on the basis of wars a generation apart, however.

Don't let us make the same mistakes we made during the last war, when dachshunds had to hang their heads in shame and sauerkraut was called liberty cabbage.

Let us keep on calling German measles by their right name. It's a disease, and it's a good name for a disease.

The World and the Mud Puddles

LESS HYSTERIA

The country learned an important lesson from the last war. It learned that wartime conditions are apt to provide a field day for citizens who fancy themselves as detectives or want to satisfy their private grudges. It found that while we fight intolerance and oppression abroad, those same evils may appear at home, supported by a form of mass hysteria, and work great injustice under the high-sounding name of patriotism.

The present Attorney General of the United States on more than one occasion has promised that his office will not lend itself to prosecutions of the witch-burning variety.

Now that the Missouri Bar Association has announced it will provide defense counsel for any victims of pseudo-patriotic activity that may reach the courts of that State, the precaution is warranted, since local grand juries and prosecutors are not under Justice Department control and even Francis I. Biddle may make mistakes.

There is, however, another manifestation of the hysterical spirit that also needs to be watched. Rumors spread easily, and the persecution of innocent persons may be just as effective by word of mouth as when it takes the shape of legal action.

Vicious whispering campaigns often do more lasting damage to reputations than an unfair indictment. Only an enlightened public opinion can handle that problem. Fortunately, the temper and of legal action is both calmer and more realistic than it was in 1917. Fact that should materially reduce the danger from crackpots and grudge bearers.

Visiting Government Building In Capital Is Difficult Procedure

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—In a city notorious for its red tape, your capital's government buildings today present ramparts against visitors that might well rival the staunch defense tactics of a General MasArthur.

Getting into the sacred sanctum of the average federal building would have extended One-Eye Connally—the premier gate crasher of all time—in his heyday.

But getting through the portals of a government building is only half a tough assignment. Getting out again is twice as difficult. We are convinced that the intricate and elaborate "defense against visitors" would have baffled the master escape artist Houdini, himself.

As a classic example, take the Treasury Department. Although the actual amount of cash stored in the Treasury vaults would scarcely keep a couple of fan dancers on the O.C.D. payroll, a circus thin man on an 18-day diet would have difficulty squeezing in to that edifice—even with credentials.

A flock of secret service men stand at a theoretic alert inside the main door. Government workers, duly accredited with special passes, are herded into one inner portal.

Visitors, regardless of the purpose of their call, are shuttled into another, considerably thinner door. If you're lugging a brief case, two cops and a uniformed female inspector relieve you of the satchel. They lift out papers, feel the lining, and if the case is devoid of bombs or the like, you get the brief case back.

A horde of "identifiers" face you behind a long desk. On promptly are asked a myriad of questions. Your name? Age? Address? Business? Purpose of visit? Who do you want to see? Why? How long will you be in the building? Ad infinitum. They make a test of your handwriting, then. You are given a big badge to pin on your lapel. In your hand you must carry a carbon copy of the questionnaire.

A bevy of glamour gal messengers confronts you. One jumps up takes the identification card, and leads you to the particular room you started for 20 minutes ago.

Three different cops accost you en route to your destination. Each time you repeat all the data, until you eventually reach the person you want to see. Chances are, by that time, you've forgotten the purpose of your visit.

Going out, the process is reversed. You re-identify yourself twice as elaborately.

Your only solace is the luscious guide. But official orders prevent her from making conversation. And you are not allowed to hang around the joint until she's through work.

Aged Woman Is Fatally Burned

(International News Service)
PUNXSUTAWNEY, Pa., Feb. 16.—

Flames from an open gas stove were blamed today for the painful death of Mrs. Fred Lydic, 75-year-old widow who was found burned beyond recognition Saturday night.

A passerby noted the flash of fire in a front room, and called firemen to the aged woman's home. The carpet and floor of the room apparently caught fire when Mrs. Lydic fell with her clothing afire, authorities said.

Woman Injured When Auto Skids

Mrs. Olive Brown, of R. F. D. No. 4, suffered a fracture of the left arm and right collar bone, early Sunday morning, when an automobile driven by her husband, Charles Brown, skidded from the highway west of Portersville on Route 422. She was brought to the Jameson Memorial hospital, where she is undergoing treatment for her injuries.

DEMONSTRATION MEETING
Over forty men and women gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Baird, Tuesday, where they witnessed a beef cutting demonstration by C. A. Burge, of State College. A great deal of interest was shown as he explained the different cuts.

At noon the ladies home economic group served lunch.

In the afternoon Miss Bonita Gordon presented Miss Winter, who told the ladies how to prepare their jars and can the meat bringing forth some helpful suggestions in preparation for variation in the cooking.

After the demonstration several of the ladies assisted Mrs. Baird in canning some of the beef several having brought pressure cookers for that purpose.

GEN. M'ARTHUR PREPARING FOR BIG JAP ATTACK

has been anticipated ever since the downfall of Singapore became imminent.

Position Critical

Military experts have predicted for some time that MacArthur's position will become extremely critical when the enemy moves adequate planes and heavy batteries for a concerted onslaught against the defenders on the Bataan Peninsula and the American held forts across Manila Bay.

While the communique did not mention possible American counter fire, MacArthur's forces in the past have withstood their batteries until they were certain of the enemy positions.

Communique

Following is the text of the war department's 109th communique: "Philippine Theater — There was heavy enemy artillery fire in Bataan during the past 24 hours. Intermittent infantry fighting was in progress on several sections of the front.

"Enemy aviation was active throughout the day. There is nothing to report from other areas."

With the fall of Singapore, the Japanese are expected to renew their large scale assaults against the American-Philippine army whose heroic resistance has prevented the enemy from using the facilities of Manila Bay in its march southward to the oil-rich East Indies.

Fresh reports of Filipino hostility in enemy occupied areas are expected to act as a spur to the Japanese in their attempt to crush MacArthur's resistance.

Filipino Resistance

As a striking case of Filipino resistance to the enemy, MacArthur reported that a native driver volunteered to move a truckload of 24 Japanese soldiers and then "deliberately" catapulted the vehicle over a cliff, killing himself and 11 of the passengers. Others were injured.

Previously MacArthur informed the war department that Japanese military authorities have become alarmed at the prospect of food shortage resulting from the fact Filipino farmers have abandoned their crops and have gone into hiding in the hills.

The surrender of Singapore, however, is said by military experts to have aggravated the already serious plight of MacArthur's forces who are faced by veteran Japanese divisions totaling about 125,000 men.

Unless sidetracked by intensification of onslaughts against Burma and Sumatra, adequate aerial reinforcements soon may bolster the enemy land forces for a knockout blow against the defenders and the four American-held forts guarding the entrance to Manila Bay.

MacArthur himself expects to intensify his attacks momentarily. He reported to the war department that the Japanese were regrouping their forces and sending in fresh troops to replace front line units "which had suffered heavy casualties."

Y. W. C. A. Notes

GIRL RESERVE CONFERENCE

For the 170 girls coming into New Castle for the Tri-State Girl Reserve conference this week-end, extensive checkroom facilities are necessary.

The committee that volunteered for this responsibility has made plans that are complete and efficient in addition to the racks found in the Y.W.C.A., two large racks will be loaned by a local dry goods store and all of these will be placed in the gymnasium where there will also be first aid equipment, mirrors for primping, thread and needles for unexpected runs, and other supplies to meet the numerous needs that may arise in a group of this size.

In addition to the responsibilities of the checkroom this committee will have a bureau of information on the main floor where girls may get information about transportation and location of streets in the city, about train and bus schedules. At this bureau, too, they may see menus from restaurants where delegates, both white and colored, may be served on the opening night of the conference. On Saturday meals will be served in the First Presbyterian church and on Sunday in the Y.W.C.A.

This committee will also have charge of the "lost and found." On the committee are Ella Pearl Wright, chairman; Mrs. H. J. Cullford, Jean McCreary, Joan Wadlinger and Martha Anne Strothers.

of the battle of the Atlantic by sinking at least two U-boats while bearing survivors from Allied merchant ships to Canadian shores.

The rescued sailors told how the Canadian warships had dropped depth charges over a wide area where the undersea raiders sank one of their cargo vessels in the western

Atlantic.

The first of the two lost freighters went down three minutes after an

Axis torpedo had pierced its side, forcing the majority of the crew to jump into the bitter cold sea. Some had their lifebelts, some didn't.

Only one lifeboat got away before the vessel took its plunge to the bottom, pulling eight crew members to their deaths in its suction.

Three of these had been trapped in the ship when the torpedo struck.

Six others including the captain,

a hero of the battle of Narvik where he won the O. B. E. for gallantry, were also killed down by the ship

but were blown to the surface again

by the explosion of the boilers under water.

Nine Hours in Lifeboat

The survivors said they were nine hours in the lifeboat before being picked up by a Canadian corvette.

A few days after their rescue as they were heading for Canada their warship ran across another corvette which was picking up survivors of a Greek freighter torpedoed a short time before.

The crew members of the British freighter said the naval men aboard their rescue ship went into action, dropping depth charges "all over the place."

Of the 14 persons picked up by the second corvette, which also went into action with depth charges

during rescue operations, five had been passengers aboard the Greek freighter. They were a German-

Jewish refugee family en route to Cincinnati, including a mother, father, two sons and a daughter,

who had been living in London for three years.

CHURCHILL AND WAR

CABINET ARE FACING

GRAVE POLITICAL TEST

shipping. But he pledged a continued fight to ultimate victory and said that in this struggle the "vast resources" of the United States will play a decisive role.

Although Churchill delivered an eloquent plea against "bickering"

over loss of Singapore and other reverses, the London News Chronicle predicted an "even more acute political crisis" than that which followed the British defeat in Norway in 1940.

(At Canberra, Australian Prime

Minister John Curtin declared:

"The fall of Singapore can only be described as Australia's Dunkirk. It opens the battle of Australia."

(Australian Army Minister Francis Ford said confirmation of Singapore's fall had come from Gen. Sir

Archibald Wavell, supreme commander of United Nations forces in the southwest Pacific. Ford said he was unable to indicate whether Australian troops had been evacuated from Singapore before it was lost.

"A British radio broadcast heard by NBC said Berlin radio admitted that British and Empire forces on Singapore Island were faithful to military tradition and

"defended their posts beyond the limit of human endurance.")

Some Evacuated

British authorities naturally refused to say how many troops had been evacuated from Singapore

prior to what the Japanese high command termed the "unconditional surrender" of the island garrison.

But there were indications that Britain may have rescued the bulk of her forces and equipment.

London newspapers quoted the Tokio radio as stating that most of the Singapore garrison had been evacuated to Sumatra in the Netherlands East Indies.

The Japanese announcer was quoted as saying, "At least 30 ships were seen at anchor in Singapore harbor Friday, and all were gone on Saturday." It was possible that many of Singapore's defenders were rushed to Sumatra to battle

the Japanese invaders there.

In Britain a political storm gathered as a result of what the London

Daily Mirror said "may have been the war's worst week"—a brief span of conflict which witnessed not only loss of Singapore, but the stunning escape of a German naval fleet from Brest through the Strait of Dover to home bases.

Parliament Attacks Seen

Many members of Parliament were prepared to launch bitter attacks on members of Churchill's cabinet, particularly First Lord of the Admiralty A. V. Alexander, Admiral of the Fleet Sir Dudley Pound and Air Secretary Sir Archibald

Sinclair.

Churchill and members of his cabinet were described as hopeful of avoiding an immediate parliamentary debate but members of the House of Commons insisted that events of the "black week" called for a prompt grand inquest. Churchill may be called on for a full statement explaining events at Singapore, the escape of the Nazi warships Scharnhorst, Gneisenau and

Prinz Eugen and the Axis counteroffensive in Libya.

Parliamentary critics called for a smaller, more compact war cabinet and for appointment of a defense minister who would free Churchill of "double duty." Churchill at present is both prime minister and defense minister.

"Members of parliament," warned the News Chronicle, "are not in a mood to give Churchill another complete vote of confidence if he continues to shield ministers behind his own prestige."

The Daily Telegraph, on the other hand, stated:

"There is no response in the country to the clamor for scapegoats."

Cautioned By Churchill

In his speech Churchill cautioned

Britons against the "mortal crime" of disunity among themselves or with other members of the United Nations. He urged Australia and

New Zealand that Britain will depend on their aid to "strain every nerve" to safeguard them against the perils wrought by loss of Singapore and invasion of the Dutch East Indies.

"Tonight," said Churchill, "I speak to you at home. I speak to you in

American Pilots In Chinese Air Force Are Licking Japs

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—Trained in new pursuit tactics American pilots in the Chinese air force are giving the Japanese a taste of their own medicine and are knocking down more than ten enemy planes for every loss of their own, according to a statement published today by the war department in the air forces news letter.

The report states that at the end of January the American detachment, known in China as "The Flying Tigers," had destroyed at least 135 Japanese planes in the air and wrecked another 50 on the ground. In less than two months, the account says, they have driven enemy bombers from the vital Burma road, parried heavy aerial thrusts at Rangoon, and blasted Japanese air bases in Thailand and Indo-China. The latest report states that only 11 American pilots have been lost.

All of the flyers were fresh from American military flying schools when they resigned their commissions in the army, navy and marine corps to join the Chinese forces. Their fighter planes are American made.

Chennault Leader
The leader of the American group is Clarence C. Chennault, former Texas school teacher, who held a commission as major in the army air corps and now is ranked as a brigadier-general by the Chinese.

The Yankee flyers shot down 48 Japanese planes on Christmas day when the Japanese made an intensive raid on Rangoon, the story says. Chennault's new combat tactics are the result of 18 years as an acrobatic pilot and four years of observing the Jap air forces in action, the war department states. He left his teaching job when World War 1 started and joined the air corps and became one of its greatest pilots. In the 1930's he formed the group known as "Three Men on a Flying Trapeze," the army's best known acrobatic formation.

Strange Saga
The news letter account says: "The story of the Flying Tigers is one of the straightest sagas of American aviation—a saga of American planes and young American pilots touched off by a spark of military genius in a battle 6,000 miles from home."

"Chennault and his planes and pilots got together in China last summer. Six months later they celebrated Christmas day together by clawing 48 Jap planes from the sky over Rangoon in the most spectacular victory of the Asiatic air war."

"Sixty Jap bombers roared toward Rangoon at 15,000 feet the day before Christmas. A Tiger squadron of 18 planes sped up to 18,000 feet, swooped down to make the interception and sent their first victims spinning into the jungles and rice paddies around Rangoon. The Tigers darted at the heavier Japs in wide weaves from above and below instead of making the conventional side approach. The Jap formations broke and fled with Tigers hunting them far into Thailand."

Got More Of It
"On Christmas day the Japs came back for more and got it. Formations totaling 70 planes made the attack, and again 18 Tigers went up to meet them. In this fray the Tigers brought their two-day score to 48 enemy planes against a loss of three of their own planes and two pilots."

"Instead of climbing to 18,000 feet as ordered, both of the American pilots lost mixed with a British squadron, apparently became confused and met the Japs on their own level at 15,000 feet. There they were caught in heavy cross-fire from an enemy bomber echelon."

"The tactics that enabled the Tigers to hang up this remarkable record were developed by Chennault during 18 years as one of the hottest acrobatic pilots ever to kick around an air corps pursuit ship, and four years of observing the Jap air force in action."

The war department said that Chennault spent six months "moulding his planes and men into as fine a fighting force as had ever left the ground, despite a shortage of spare parts, ammunition and fuel."

"In spite of minor miracles performed by the ground crews, many of their plane losses have been due to overworked engines rather than Jap bullets," the account continued. "To conserve ammunition, the Tigers were trained to get their Japs with the first burst. Combat reports show that about eight of every ten Japs downed fell during the first 'sputter' from the Tigers' guns."

"Chennault trained his men like a college football team. He quartered them in special hostels where American food and drinks were served and American, chocolate and tobacco were available. Every Tiger carries a bottle of alcohol to sterilize eating utensils, and to be used on minor injuries in the field."

INJURED IN FALL
Edward Olsen, aged 60 years, of 127 Elm street, was treated at the Jameson Memorial hospital, Saturday evening at 9 o'clock, for a laceration when he fell on North side of the back of the head, Beaver street.

Asthma Agony
Don't rely on smoke, sprays and injections if you suffer from recurring, choking, gasping, wheezing spells of asthma. Thousands of sufferers have found that first dose of Mendoz usually palliates asthma spasms and loosens thick, clinging mucus, thus promoting free breathing and more restful sleep. THIS JAP HAWK TO FLY NO MORE

—Central Press Photographs

Death kept its rendezvous with this Japanese pilot on a Malayan mountainside. The Nipponese airman flew too close to a British anti-aircraft battery. Top photo shows remains of the Japanese plane's fuselage. A native stands beside it, giving the "V for Victory" sign. Lower photo shows the hapless pilot, lying dead in the shrouds of his torn parachute. The pictures were released by the British ministry of information.

Lutheran Pastor Installed Sunday

Rev. H. Reed Shepherd, Pittsburgh Synod President, Installs Rev. Adam E. Simon

St. John's Lutheran church, North street and Neshannock avenue, was filled to capacity Sunday morning at the 11 o'clock service when the church's new pastor, Rev. Adam E. Simon, was installed with Rev. H. Reed Shepherd, president of the Pittsburgh Synod, United Lutheran church, officiating.

The charge to the pastor and congregation was made by Mr. Shepherd. Special music for the service was provided by Mrs. Ben Agnew, who presented a vocal solo. The church chancel had been decorated with ferns and flowers for the occasion.

Also in attendance at the service were Mr. Simon's four children, Paul Luther, 11; Ruth Mae, 10; Naomi Elizabeth, 8; and Lois Eunice, 6, from Zelenople.

Lenten services are to start Ash Wednesday, February 18, at St. John's church at 7:45 o'clock on the general theme "The Cross Over Life."

Mr. Simon's topic this Wednesday will be "The Disciple."

Next Sunday morning at the 11 o'clock service, Mr. Simon will give the response to the installation charge in his sermon, "Here I Stand."

Mr. Simon, now residing at St. John's parsonage, 320 East Winton avenue, came to this city from Clairton where he was pastor of the Trinity Evangelical Lutheran church. He is a graduate of Chicago Seminary.

Sunday School Campaign Opens

Start Contest Being Sponsored By Lawrence County Sabbath School Association

FIRST STANDINGS GIVEN FOR CHURCHES

The opening Sunday of the eight weeks Pre-Easter campaign known as the "All Out Defense Campaign," being sponsored by the Lawrence County Sabbath School Association, was Sunday with attendances not quite as good as usual due to the inclement weather. The New Castle Sunday schools participating are the Third U. P., First Baptist, Highland U. P., Epworth Methodist, First Presbyterian, First Christian, Second U. P., Central Christian, Croton Methodist, First U. P., Central Presbyterian, St. Paul's Lutheran, Mahoning Methodist, Wesley Methodist, Methodist Memorial Primitive Methodist, Mahoningtown Presbyterian, Reformed Presbyterian, St. John's Lutheran, Madison Avenue Christian, and the North Side Community. The First Methodists will decide next Sunday as to their participation.

The classifications are not completed so the standings and figures for these Sunday schools will be run in next Monday's issue, and thereafter every week until the end of the campaign.

The church attendance figures were furnished for 11 Sunday schools, the percentage figure of the Sunday school attendance remaining for church are furnished here. Figures for more Sunday schools will be given next week.

Senator Davis Out For Governor

Hot Republican Primary Battle Looms—Major Gen. Martin Likely Candidate

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Feb. 16.—Senator James J. Davis' long-predicted gubernatorial candidacy became a reality today, and with it came promise of a hot Republican primary battle.

Davis, in Pittsburgh over the week-end, authorized this statement: "My nominating petitions will be circulated beginning February 28; they will be filed and they will not be withdrawn."

Political leaders on both sides for months have assumed that the senior Pennsylvania senator would seek the GOP nomination for governor, regardless of whom the organization chose as its candidate.

Present indications were that Major General Edward Martin—if war regulations will not interfere—would carry the organization endorsement banner. This threatened a three-way fight between a Republican "new guard" forces have named William H. Harman, Philadelphia industrialist, as a probable candidate on their ticket.

Local GOP observers concede that a three-way fight would be all to the advantage of Davis, a strong voter. But whether a Republican will finally enter the race and whether Martin will be the ultimate organization candidate, remained to be seen. There was no expectation in the Davis camp or out, that the senator would be the organization choice in the primary.

Women Can Enroll For Nutrition Class

Registrations Are Being Taken By Red Cross For Two New Classes

Registrations are still being taken for two new classes in food and nutrition, which are being conducted by the Lawrence county chapter, American Red Cross.

One of these classes, which will be instructed by Miss Eleanor Horner, will meet Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock in the green room of the Y. W. C. A. The other is a Tuesday evening class at 7:30 o'clock also in the Y. W. C. A.

These courses consist of ten lessons of two hours each and deal with the principles of nutrition, menu planning for a balanced diet and how to stretch the food dollar. At the end of the course, those who passed the required examination will receive a certificate from the National Red Cross.

Kiwanis members will lunch Wednesday noon at The Castleton and, under the direction of their ways and means committee, will make plans for their coming club stage shows at the Cathedral. The entertainment, a benefit, will combine the professional with the amateur.

Dinner - Dance At Sylvan Heights Country Club Closes Alumni Membership Campaign

Saturday evening members of St. Mary's Alumni held their pre-lenten Valentine dinner at Sylvan Heights Country club. About 100 members were in attendance. The motif for the occasion was the seasonal Valentine decorations. This affair brought to a successful close the membership campaign which has been under way for the past month.

The dinner dance marks a step forward in the history of the society as it was the first to be held since the organization of the group two years ago.

Serving on the reception committee for the evening were the following: James Chill, Joseph Donegan, John Gallagher, Louise Kennedy, Mildred Donegan and Althea Pauley.

Ten Post Forfeits; Fail To Appear

Chief of Police Willis G. McMullen led a squad of police Sunday afternoon into a cellar room of a building at the corner of South Mill and Division street where gambling was reportedly under way.

Frank Maciarello was charged, under a city ordinance, with being the proprietor of a "disorderly house," and nine persons caught in the cellar were charged with being visitors therein.

The reported proprietor placed a cash bond of $100 and each of the visitors, $10 each, for a hearing today in police court but failed to appear and Mayor Charles B. Mayne declared the bonds forfeited.

Bottleneck In Washington Is Landon's Idea

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—Declaring that "what the country wants is an all out effort to win the war," Alfred M. Landon, Republican presidential nominee in 1936, today predicted large Republican gains in the congressional and state elections in November.

"The people are in a 'show me' attitude," Landon said, "they are not satisfied with the way the war is being conducted. They talk in Washington about the country being complacent but the people throughout the country are not complacent. There is more complacency in Washington."

"I talked with an Iowa editor for example and he told me that in every filling station and drug store they are talking about the activities of Mrs. Roosevelt and the failure of the administration to support General MacArthur."

"Labor as a whole and the farmers as a whole have been putting their shoulders to the wheel. The farmers are doing a wonderful job of production and industry is surpassing all records."

"The bottleneck is in Washington and something should be done about it."

Engineers' Society To See Battle Action At February 18 Banquet

Exclusive motion pictures of the sinking of the German battleship Bismarck, of the British evacuation at Dunkerque, of the Battle of Warsaw, the Battle of Moscow and of the first Siege of Tobruk will be shown to the Mahoning-Schenango Valley Engineers' society at a banquet in The Castleton Wednesday, February 18 at 7 p. m.

Speaker will be Earl I. BeMent, of Pittsburgh, vice president of Methods Engineering Council, who will discuss one of industry's most important problems, "Operator Training."

New officers of the society for 1942 are announced as Joseph B. Lasky, chief engineer at Johnson Bronze Co., president; Harry L. McKee, vice president; Sid L. Lockley, treasurer; L. L. (Les) Weitzel, secretary, and Frank J. Bowers and John H. Hough, council members.

Jr. O. U. A. M. Plans 19th Annual Dinner

C. Neven Mears, National Leader, Will Speak Here February 20

New Castle's Junior Order of United American Mechanics will hold their 19th annual Washington's birthday banquet in I. O. O. F. hall, 335 1/2 East Washington street, Friday, February 20 at 6:15 p. m. Principal speaker will be C. Neven Mears, past counselor of the national council.

Castle Council 365 was organized October 17, 1922 and every year since a Washington's birthday celebration has been held. This year Mears, the speaker, will discuss "Patriotism and Its Meaning in Our Present Crisis." The original founding of the order came in old Germantown, now Philadelphia, on May 17, 1853. It is the oldest and largest and one of the most progressive patriotic fraternities in the United States.

Banquet plans were completed last night.

Road Materials Must Be Secured Through State

Cities, Counties, Boroughs And Townships Are Affected By Regulations

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Feb. 16.—Cities, counties, boroughs and townships which require road construction materials now on the restricted list will henceforth have to clear their requests through the state department of highways, it was announced today.

The department will review the application and if it contains sufficient data the application will be forwarded to the U. S. Public Roads Administration.

Under the new procedure established by the federal government the public roads administration will make such recommendations as the information accompanying the application warrants, such as essential to national defense or to the health and safety of civilians. The applications will then be sent to the division of industry operations of the war production board, which has the sole power to grant priorities.

Instructions are now being forwarded by the highways department to authorities in the various counties, cities, boroughs and townships in the state outlining the procedure to follow in applying for priority ratings on highways improvements planned by local communities.

Recently the department disclosed that it had been forced to abandon a planned program for $40,000,000 worth of road construction in Pennsylvania during 1942. Projects must now be submitted individually for approval. Those which require a substantial use of steel stood little chance of being approved. It was stated, unless they were deemed essential to the nation's war effort.

Committee Plans

Transportation For Conference Girls

In order that the delegates to the big Tri-State Girl Reserve conference will not become confused with directions in a strange city, the transportation committee is making careful plans to see that all girls will be transported to their hostesses' home on the first night of the conference.

Each girl on the committee has agreed to be responsible for getting a certain number of cars, all of which should report at the Y. W. C. A. on Friday evening, Feb. 20, by nine o'clock.

Each one who drives a car will report to the "checker," standing at the top of the stairs, the girls whom she takes out to homes, and will report again when she returns. In this way it is hoped that every girl will be graciously taken care of.

On this committee are Ruth Fehl, chairman; Judy Magill, Margaret Bailey and Anita Sacco.

RELAX GAS DRILLING ORDER TO AID PLANTS

To promote increased production of natural gas for the use of war industries in the local district and in Pittsburgh, Youngstown, Cleveland and other Appalachian area cities, restrictions recently placed on the drilling of new natural gas wells by the War Production Board were relaxed today in Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio, Kentucky and New York.

Petroleum Coordinator Harold L. Ickes made the recommendation to relax the order.

For FUN and ECONOMY try ELECTRIC Table Cookery

Smart wives know it takes "something different" to hold the interest of the family appetite . . . Your table appliances make the job a cinch . . .

Grilled sandwiches, a perfectly broiled steak, perfect coffee, hot muffins, all can be cooked right at the table, as can many other delicious foods, if you use your table appliances. Table cookery makes possible the economy and ease of electric cooking into any home. Table appliances do the job for which they are intended. And the superior taste of electric cooking—it's really the taste of foods cooked in their natural juices—is unsurpassable. If any of your appliances are out of order, have your electric repairman look them over today. Put them to work at meal-getting, making it an easier and more pleasant task for you.

Are You Moving?—So that you will not be inconvenienced by delay, please notify us in advance of electric service connections you desire. In view of war conservation "must," we are arranging our schedule of calls in order to reduce use of our automobiles. Thanks for your cooperation!

Thanks for the Tanks, Folks!

The More Dollars You Save in Defense Bonds . . . The More "Axis-Crushers" Our Army Will Have

AMERICA must produce 45,000 tanks this year! 60,000 planes! 20,000 anti-aircraft guns! Altogether, 56 billion dollars worth of fighting equipment to smash the military maniacs attacking us.

That's why billions of fighting dollars—your dollars saved for Defense Bonds and Stamps—are needed and needed now!

That's why every American man, woman, and child must put every dime and dollar not into auto tires but into automatic rifles—not into luxuries, but into tanks—not into spending for the pursuit of happiness, but into Defense Bonds for the relentless pursuit of our enemies.

An important part of America's job, your job, this year is to spend less and save more—to invest in safety with perfect safety! Not only does the United States Government guarantee your money, it guarantees to give you back $4 for every $3 you save in Defense Bonds when you hold the Bonds to maturity! In fact, $18.75 brings you $25 with absolutely no effort or work on your part!

Make up your mind right now to save for Defense Bonds—regularly. Set aside as much as you can. Make every pay day Bond day! Remember, you can start saving for a Bond by getting Defense Stamps for as little as 10 cents.

MAKE EVERY
BOND DAY

You Get a $25⁰⁰ Bond for Only $18⁷⁵

Facts About Defense Bonds, Series E

HOW MUCH DO THEY COST? UPON MATURITY YOU
YOU LEND UNCLE SAM GET BACK

$18.75 . . .	$25.00
$37.50 . . .	$50.00
$75.00 . .	$100.00
$375.00 .	$500.00
$750.00	$1,000.00

When is maturity? Ten years from the time you buy the Bond. If you need the money before then, you can cash the bonds at any time after 60 days from their issue date. A table of cash-in values is printed on each Bond. Naturally, the longer you hold the Bond, up to 10 years, the more money you'll get back. But you'll never get less than you put in.

What's the interest rate? When held to maturity, the Bonds yield 2.9% per year on your investment, compounded semiannually—you get back $4 for every $3 you save in Defense Bonds.

Where do I go to buy a Bond? To your local Bank, Post Office, Savings and Loan Association, or other Defense Bond Agency.

What about Defense Stamps? Buying Defense Stamps is a convenient way of saving money with which to buy a real Defense Bond. Stamps are sold for as little as 10¢.

When should I buy a Bond? Start now; buy regularly. If your company has a Pay-Roll Savings Plan, take advantage of it NOW! INVEST IN SAFETY—WITH PERFECT SAFETY!

Discusses Possibilities Of Coast Raids On U.S.

By CAPT. JOHN H. CRAIG
U. S. Marine Corps, Retired
Written Especially for
International News Service

Question most frequently heard since the spectacular dash of the Scharnhorst, Gneisenau and Prinz Eugen through Britain's channel to the safety of Heligoland, deals with the possibility of raids by Nazi warships and carrier-borne aircraft against seaboard cities of the United States.

The answer is that while such raids are technically entirely possible as a matter of practical war they are extremely unlikely. Immensely valuable ships and planes would have to be thrown into the pot by Hitler's high command in a desperate gamble to gain stakes that would be of little worth if they were won.

Even if the entire 80 planes of Hitler's two airplane carriers known to be completed could dump their full bomb-loads on New York, the military damage would probably be insignificant. London was bombed daily for months on end by Nazi squadrons numbering up to 1,000 planes and its life went on with little interruption.

Airplane operations against cities of the American seaboard, at most, could be only token bombings. Their effect on the war would be slight. But they would unquestionably arouse America as it has never been aroused before and turn every U. S. citizen into a fanatical worker for Axis defeat at whatever cost to himself.

Different Feat
The tactical features of a raid against America would be far different from the 700-mile dash of the Nazi ships through the British channel and the North sea. That seems to have been accomplished in 28 hours at a 25-mile an hour average. Steaming at a similar clip across the 3,000 miles of ocean that separates Hitler's nearest bases from America would take 120 hours, or five complete days.

Given the skill at weather forecasting and the combination of good management and good luck that marked the flight of the Nazi ships from Brest to Heligoland, it is entirely possible that a squadron of Nazi battleships and airplane carriers could slip out of Norwegian ports unobserved.

If bad weather, with poor visibility, they might even penetrate far out on the Atlantic. But sooner or later, discovery would come. Then wireless concentration orders would bring every American and British warship and bombing plane in the North Atlantic and Western Mediterranean racing to cut them off.

Pounded Day and Night
They would be pounded day and night by bombers and torpedo planes as the Bismarck was pounded. They would be harassed by destroyer attacks and potted by ambushed submarines. If they survived to approach refuge in ports on the coasts of Norway or France, they would find their way to safety barred by overpowering battleship squadrons. It is improbable that a single ship of such a raiding squadron would get back to port.

Battleships and aircraft carriers take three years to build, even at wartime tempo. They are not ships to be thrown away.

So, according to all the rules of conventional naval war, the much discussed "token" raids against American coastal cities seem extremely improbable. Yet Hitler has specialized in doing the improbable, and it would not be wise for us to relax the vigilance, either of our scouting patrols or of our air raid precautions systems.

More Probable
Much more probable use planned by the German admiralty for the Scharnhorst and the Gneisenau is as surface raiders, either separately or in combination with all the rest of the Nazi fleet. Fighting at sea is the real business of a navy, not taking extravagant risks to pump a few ineffective bombs and shells into distant cities.

With the two battleships home

the Nazi will have at least three 30-knot heavy ships able to outrun and outfight all but the latest British and American superdreadnaughts. To this they could add a fleet of cruisers and two pocket battleships, making a squadron that would require five or six British-American dreadnaughts to be kept constantly concentrated if destructive convoy raids were to be prevented.

The question of how many battleships and carriers Germany has completed since the war began is also worrying the British-American naval command. Two more Bismarck-type ships have been completed than is generally estimated. If that proves true, probably eight British and American capital ships will have to be concentrated to watch them with a corresponding reduction of naval forces elsewhere.

Statements and opinions herein are private to the writer and are not to be construed as reflecting the views of the navy department.

Four Killed In Greensburg Crash

GREENSBURG, Pa., Feb. 16.—Of six persons trapped in the wreckage of their car on Route No. 981, four miles west of Scottsdale, on the Smithton road, Sunday, three were killed; a fourth died as the result of burns in the Frick Memorial hospital, Mt. Pleasant, and two others are not expected to live in the same hospital.

The car ran off the road, overturned and caught fire. Three were unable to free themselves. Three others managed to break their way out, according to a report of state motor police from Troop A, Greensburg, who investigated the tragedy.

Burned in the wreckage were Clifford Graves, of Swagtown; Clyde Edwards, age and address unknown; Pearl Baker, 30, of 329 Connellsville avenue, Connellsville; Clara Wynters, 29, of Connellsville, is not expected to recover. In critical condition is Herbert Graves, 32, of Swagtown, badly burned over the body. The remains of the dead are at a morgue in Scottsdale.

Primary Battle For Democrats Seems Likely

Factions Not Agreed As Yet Upon Any Harmony Candidate For Governor

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Feb. 16.—A primary battle for the Democratic nomination for Governor today appeared in prospect, although some hope still was held that dissenting factions within the party could unite behind a harmony candidate.

Whatever chance there was of the Democratic party avoiding an intra-party struggle rested with a committee of 20 leaders chosen from 40 party representatives who met Saturday at Harrisburg to canvass the situation, at the request of Democratic State Chairman Meredith Meyers.

The committee, which includes U. S. Senator Joseph F. Guffey and National Committeeman David L. Lawrence, the heads of the two principal party factions, held a short meeting and agreed to confer again at the capital on Thursday.

If the committee can agree upon one candidate it will recommend to the entire group, which will assemble at the same time, that he be supported. The group would then suggest his endorsement by the 113 members of the Democratic state committee which will meet at the capital on February 27 and constitute itself a nominating convention.

Although the decision on peace or war within the party was ostensibly left to a committee of 20, in reality the matter will be decided by Lawrence and Guffey. It was evident that if the two erstwhile friends and now political opponents united behind one candidate, he would be practically assured of the Democratic nomination. Naming the rest of the ticket, which will include candidates for lieutenant-governor, secretary of internal affairs and the appellate courts, would present an easier problem.

When the meeting broke up Saturday there appeared little to indicate that harmony was anywhere near, although Guffey remarked: "We are making progress and I am hopeful of harmony."

BROTHER DIES IN PONTARDAWE, WALES

Lewis J. Davies of 420 Electric street received a cablegram Saturday announcing the death of his brother, David Davies, Railway Terrace, Pontardawe, South Wales, aged 71, of a heart attack. He is survived by his wife, Hannah Price Davies, and four sons, Sidney, Arthur Gwynne, Trevor and Daniel, also a brother, William, and sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Ann Julian. Deceased toured the United States with the Cambrian National Glee Singers, about 30 years ago, as bass soloist, having a concert in this city and at Westminster college. He visited with his brother and family here at that time. He was musical director at Zoar Methodist church for many years.

BLAME YOUR LAZY LIVER BILE IF—

CONSTIPATION with its headaches, mental dullness and that "half-alive" feeling may often result when your liver doesn't secrete 20 to 30 ounces of bile every day into your intestines. So you see how important it is to keep bile flowing freely! And what finer aid could one desire than Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, used so successfully for years by Dr. F. M. Edwards for treating his patients for constipation and sluggish liver bile.

Olive Tablets are unsurpassed in effectiveness because they stir up liver bile secretion to help digest fatty foods, they tone up muscular intestinal action, at the same time help elimination. Being purely vegetable, Olive Tablets are wonderful! Test their supreme goodness TODAY! 15c, 30c, 60c. All drugstores.

Bert Yoho Establishing Reputation As Real Fisherman In Florida

Activities of New Castle and Lawrence county folks who are sojourning at St. Cloud, Fla., are contained in a message to The News.

Bert Yoho, and wife, are establishing an enviable reputation as fishermen, and unless they (the fish) weigh more than a couple of pounds, they throw them back in. The other day they were out and caught one weighing almost ten pounds, and the next day, had ten fine fish in an hour and a half, two of which weighed five pounds and the rest averaged three pounds. Mrs. Yoho hooked one which was so big, it broke her pole. The third day, they got ten nice fish, one monster weighing 19 pounds and measuring 35 inches.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Potter, Miss Pearl Colnot, and Mr. and Mrs. George Goebel arrived in St. Cloud last week for a stay.

Black-White Auto Plates Due In '43

WPB Also Expected To Rule Out Yellow Traffic Marks 'For Duration'

All 1943 auto license plates probably will be limited to black and white and domestic earth colors, such as red oxides, ochre, amber, sienna and a small amount of iron blue, the protective coatings industry advisory committee has been told.

Yellow traffic markings on streets and highways also are on their way out. Emergency specifications that contain no chrome yellow pigment are being discussed by War Production Board officials and the industry. White paints with a high reflectance value will be substituted.

Both moves are a part of the government's program to conserve materials and to set up specifications which will contain a minimum of strategic raw materials.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Shellenberger have returned from St. Louis, Mo., where they visited their son Dale, who is stationed at Scott Field, Ill.

Mr. and Mrs. William Marshall and son Wayne and Miss Beverly Adams of Koppel were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Shuster this week.

The Women's Missionary society of the United Presbyterian church held their February meeting at the home of Mrs. Clyde Rhodes on Wednesday afternoon.

The World Day of Prayer will be observed on Friday, February 20, in Mt. Pleasant Presbyterian church at 2 o'clock and will be a union service of all Darlington and New Galilee churches.

Miss Hazel White, Miss Ina Littell and Joseph Littell, Mrs. Bertha Hoffman and son John were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Horn on Friday evening, February 6, when they celebrated the first birthday of their daughter Connie. It was also the birthday of Miss Ina Littell. The birthdays were on Sunday, February 8. Connie and her little brother Tommy were both presented with defense bonds.

AMERICA'S ANSWER!

A new war-plane every six minutes.

A new war tank every nine minutes.

A great new anti-aircraft gun every twenty minutes.

Two new cargo ships every day.

That's America's Answer to Pearl Harbor!

That's America's Answer to Axis aggression—to pagan barbarism.

America's Answer will take raw materials in tremendous quantities—copper and rubber and aluminum and steel and zinc and tin—the same raw materials normally used to produce America's telephone service.

Because high-speed communication is so vitally essential to the war effort—both in production and in combat—it is well that America has the finest telephone system in the world today.

True, demands in recent months have used up much of the margins of plant which we have always endeavored to maintain to care for growth and emergencies.

We are confident that sufficient materials will be available to keep pace, at least, with the most critical requirements of the emergency.

Beyond that, we know that you will gladly give way when America's Answer makes it necessary.

Have no doubt that we are doing all in our power to meet every need for telephone service, civilian and emergency.

When the emergency demands it, we will do as you would want us to do—GIVE THE WAR EFFORT THE RIGHT OF WAY.

NO. 37 DEDUCTION FOR INTEREST

Amounts paid or accrued within the taxable year 1941 as interest on indebtedness are deductible, with certain exceptions, from gross income in determining net income. Deductible items include interest on borrowed money to defray personal expenses, and on money borrowed for the purchase of real or personal property. If a person owes money on a lien or mortgage note on his home the amount of the interest may be deducted. Indebtedness, however, need not be evidenced by lien, judgment, or mortgage to make the interest on it deductible. Frequently indebtedness is evidenced only by a note.

Interest paid on indebtedness incurred in the purchase of obligations (other than obligations of the United States issued after September 24, 1917, and originally subscribed for by the taxpayer), the interest upon which is wholly exempt from Federal income tax, is not deductible.

AMBRIDGE TUSSLE TUESDAY CRUCIAL

New Castle Sure Of First Place Tie In Section III
By Winning

BESSEMER BROOKERS
PLAY IN SECTION 20

Lawrence county's bounce and dribble panorama hits the 1942 peak spot smack in the middle Tuesday night.

Two of the five engagements, Ambridge-New Castle and Bessemer-East Brook, stand out like a couple of six carat diamonds.

Here are the two reasons:

New Castle high, perched in the Section III league top post, will be sure of at least a deadlock for the loop ermine by flattening the second place Bridgers on George Washington junior high.

Bessemer high achieves the same result in Section 20 by outcutting East Brook on the Brookers' floor.

Their spirits further buoyed by Friday's annihilation of Beaver Falls high, the Bridenbaughmen are confident as they drill for the crucial setoff.

Bessemer, playing away from home, is faced with a stiffer task. With Grubis, Kreselich and Tassota continuing to play sensational basketball, the Red and Black clad outfit feels certain of overcoming the handicap. Bessemer pasted the Brookers earlier this season, 34-21.

Augmenting an unusually appealing cage program, Princeton fires against Mt. Jackson at Mt. Jackson. New Wilmington goes into action against Shenango Township in East New Castle and Wampum high, paced by high scoring Coy Craine, flings at Union Township high.

Union Township and New Wilmington are stymied for second place honors.

Westminster college invades Madison Square Garden tonight for an important joust with Brooklyn college.

Second-Greeks
Battle Tonight

The league leading Second U. P. team will battle the St. George Greek team tonight in the feature game on the evening's card. This will be the second game on the menu.

Coach "Manny Othites of the 'Fighting Spartans' believes that his charges can break the winning streak of the Second U. P. tonight. Coach Dick Davis of the County Line streeters, thinks differently. The game should be a humdinger.

In the first game at 7:45 o'clock the Epworth boys will play the Central Presbyterians, and in the third game the Croton team tangles with the St. Vitus quintet.

Dietz Signs His
Pirate Contract

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Feb. 16.—The Pittsburgh Pirates today announced that Pitcher Lloyd Arthur "Dutch" Dietz has signed his 1942 contract.

Dietz, who is 26 and lives in Beaumont, Tex., won seven and lost two for the Bucs last season and had an earned run average of 2.34.

Ambridge High Here Tuesday

New Castle Needs Victory
Tuesday To Assure Tie
At Least For Section
Title

BEAT AMBRIDGE
IN PREVIOUS GAME

New Castle High School basketball team can tie for the Section Three championship at least if they defeat Ambridge High here Tuesday evening. The reserves will play the preliminary game at 7 o'clock.

New Castle came in on the heels of an exciting upset. Head Coach Phil Bidenbaugh will have his full team available for the crucial game tomorrow evening. At Ambridge he started the same team that will start tomorrow. Lee and Ciaza at the forwards, Melchior at center and Zubkowsky and Burris at the guards.

Have Lost But One
The only team to beat New Castle this season was Aliquippa and the locals got their revenge the other evening by the score of 49 to 29. New Castle has won six and lost but one game. All of the other teams have lost three games.

Tuesday evening will no doubt see a large crowd as the Ambridge High team will bring a large number of students and fans here for the game.

New Castle fans are naturally excited at the idea of again playing in the playoffs at the Pitt stadium.

Junior Church League Results

Four games were played on Saturday in the junior church league at the "Y" with the following results:

Baptists 36; St. Phillips and St. James 20

St. Marys 35; First Christians 17

First Presbyterians 19; First Methodists 16

St. George 50; Central Christians 23

EXCEPTION O. K.
Sunday double headers in the big leagues are permitted only after the home club has had its first four Sundays. An exception is St. Louis where double headers may be played the fourth Sunday.

Titans Battle Brooks Tonight

Westminster Arrives In
Gotham On Sunday Evening; Plays Tonight

MEET VILLANOVA
WEDNESDAY NIGHT

(Special To The News)
NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—Fatigued from an all day train ride, Westminster college team arrived on Times Square Sunday evening for its Madison Square Garden basketball engagement with Brooklyn college tonight.

The blue and white flippers from western Pennsylvania, who appeared and were defeated in last season's National Invitational tournament, strive to make up for that Long Island loss by putting on an exhibition that will win the plaudits of New York's fussy sports gallery.

In Good Shape
Coach Grover Washburn pronounced his squad in fine fettle, with the exception of Joe Spak, who was injured in a recent scrimmage. Teh genial tutor will start Fox and Ridi at forward, Stan Wask at center, with Joe Spak and Dale Dummire at the sentinel posts.

Because the blue and white shirted eagles boast a veteran, studded lineup, the bookmakers have installed them as favorites.

Indications point to one of the biggest galleries of the season due to Westminster's popularity here, plus the box office appeal of Long Island, Seton Hall and Brooklyn.

Other participants in the twin bill. Following the Brooklyn clash, Westminster departs for Philadelphia to battle Villanova college on Wednesday night.

To gain national recognition and another bid to the Madison Square Garden bazaar, Westminster's Titans must play an impressive, particularly so in the Garden.

Furnace Quintet Tops McKeesport

Gennock, Santangelo Honored At Party

Nickie Gennock and Louie Santangelo who leave soon to join the United States armed forces, were honored at a farewell party held in the home of Fred "Sully" Marcella, 745 South Mill street, Sunday evening.

The popular athletes were honored by the St. Vitus and Old Furnace basketball teams, the clubs with which they were affiliated.

Gennock leaves on Tuesday while Santangelo departs on February 25. Those present included:

Coach Tony "Kane" Morgan, Nick Lauro, business manager, Nickie Gennock, Louie Santangelo, Lauro, "Rags" Gennock, "Red" Ross, Sammy Ciaza, Sammy Bullano, Tony Latore, Jackie Regna, Tony Colaluca, Dave Lewis and Fred Marcella.

Colored Church League Games

Two more games will be played next Tuesday in the New Castle colored church league at the Arena floor. In the first game the Bethel team will play the St. Lukes five, and in the second game the Union Baptist play the St. Pauls team.

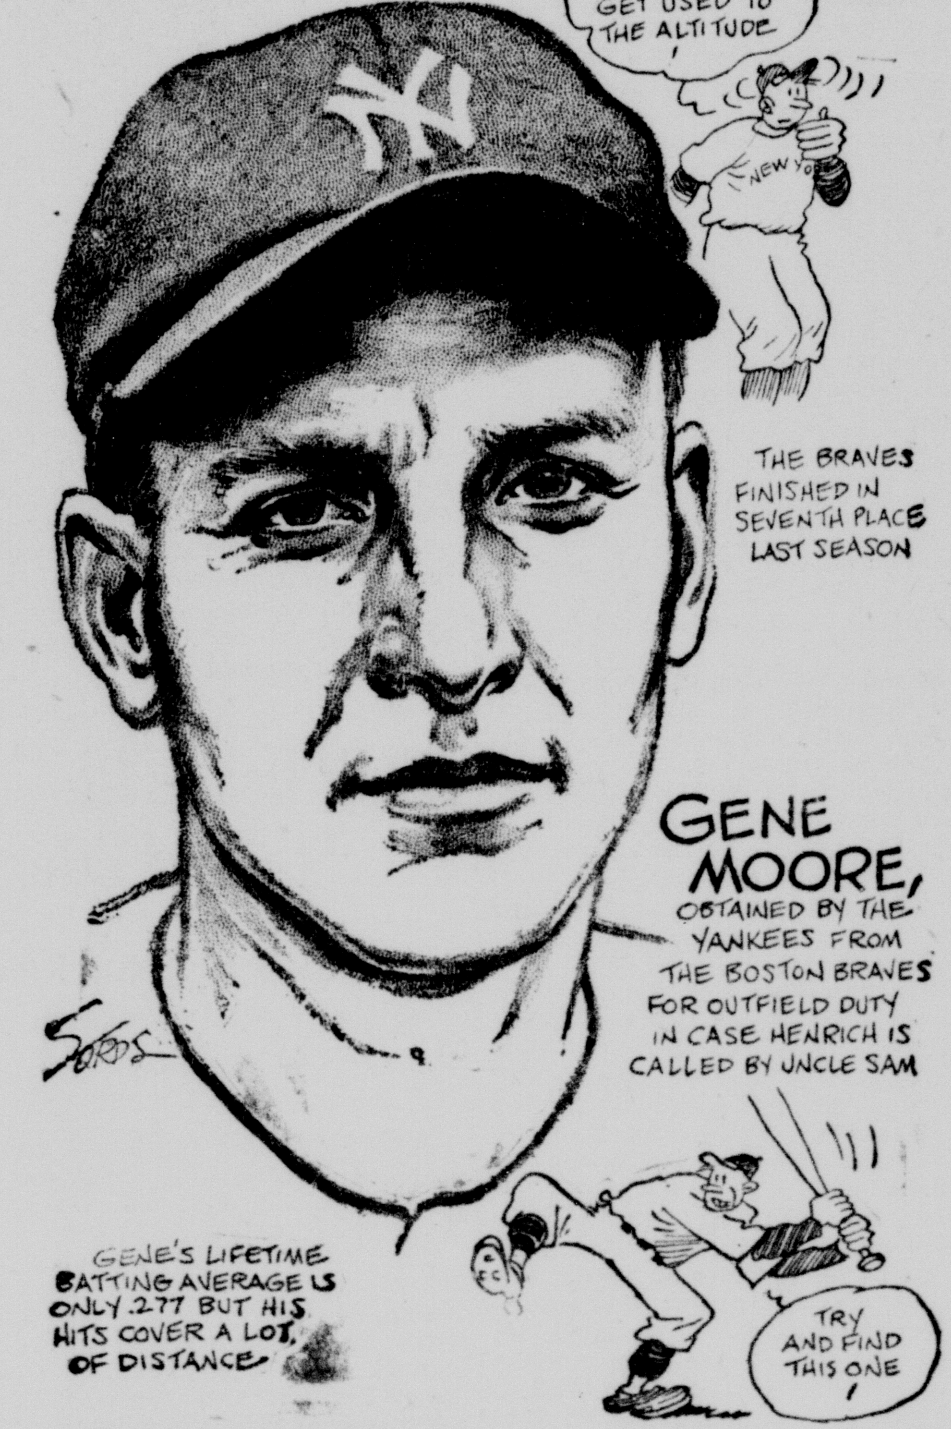

The first game starts at 5:45 o'clock.

PIRATES WIN TWO
The New Castle Pirates basketball team won two games last week, defeating the Polish Falcon Juniors, 60 to 28 and the Superior Street Giants, 44 to 28.

UNCLE SAM'S MEN
George Franck and Clint McClaine of the Giants of pro football have enlisted in the navy, and a mate, Chet Gladchuk, selected the army.

HOUSE LEAGUE GAME
The Engineering Works team will play the Globetrotters in a House league game at the "Y" tonight at 7 o'clock.

SPORTS WORLD RAMBLINGS

Hanging out the Monday sports wash:—

Westminster college will be greatly handicapped in its Madison Square Garden clash with Brooklyn college tonight due to the presence of the freshman rule. The regulation provides that neither school must use freshmen athletes. The Titans will be harder hit, in the opinion of this writer....

The blue and white's No. 1 substitute is Charles "Goldie" Goldblum, an offensive threat of the first water and an exceptionally valuable performer under the hoops: Bill McLhinney, who has shown constant improvement, and Milan Reznik, will all see the light along the sidelines as a result of the rule....

Matchmaker Johnny Loccasano, Ellwood City's boxing impresario, announces that he has arranged a star-studded program for Tuesday, February 24, in Shelby auditorium. Russell Baxter, the New Castle blond ace, swings back into action against Norman Fitch, of Chester, West Virginia. Pete Carey, brother of Tom, makes his debut against Bruno Pishonier, an Ellwood City newcomer....

The appearance of two of the fighting League brothers, "Baby Face" and Al, adds further lure to the affair. The show is a benefit for the B. V. M. Boys' Club. Funds raised by the fistcuffs will be used to purchase equipment for sports activities fostered by the popular organization....

Billy Conn's post fight talk over the air had a powerful smell of egotism, at least it struck us that way... New York scribes, who know more than we'll ever know about the mitt slinging sport, agree that The Kid isn't even a shade of the Conn who almost whipped Joe Louis last June. The announcer, by the way, said he didn't know what was keeping Zale up. He must be alone in that class....

Some of the Athletic pitchers are already in training. The head start won't hurt em... Brooklyn spent $1,478,000 last year and paid out $409,000 in taxes. Still, the club made money. Is baseball big business?... "Diz" Dean supposidly is still biding in that Fountain of Youth to restore his arm. After being in all the hot water "Diz" has been in, I can't figure out why he needs additional baths. Maybe you can....

The Cincy Reds are leaving the starting time of games, day and night, up to the fans. A poll is being conducted to ascertain the most suitable time for the "play ball" signal. Note to pole vaulters: Cornelius Warner, who has leaped over the 15 foot mark 14 times, grips the pole 12 feet, 9 inches from the contact point to attain a 15-foot leap. Try it....

St. Louis, has joined the army and is at Jefferson, Mo., barracks... Ray Elliot has been chosen head football coach at Illinois... Slippery Rock swimmers defeated W. & J. at Washington, 29-27.

Nittany Lions threw West Virginia matmen Saturday at State College, 29-3, and their gymnasts conquered Temple, 37-17. Joe Krol, left winger for the Brooklyn Americans, has been called to Winnipeg to undergo physical examination for the Canadian army.

MILTONS WIN GAME
The Milton A. C. baseball team defeated the Le Saile club of Youngstown, Sunday at the Arena floor, 25 to 18. The Miltons will play the K. Pulaski five at the K. P. hall on Tuesday evening. Stars in the game Sunday were Fazzone, Humphrey, Patton and McCracken.

MILTON JAYVEES WIN
The Milton Jayvees won from the East Side Juniors at the Arena floor on Sunday afternoon, 27 to 13. Starting in the game were Liebenbender and Morgan. The Milton juniors have won 13 and lost but three this season. For games call 3364-J and ask for Dick.

PERCENTAGE IS GOOD
Don Peden, mentioned as a possible successor to Bob Zuppke at Illinois, has had a .750 percentage at Ohio university in 16 seasons.

HANLEY ARE MAJORS
Pat Hanley, Boston university football coach, and his brother, Dick, former Northwestern coach, are majors in the Marines.

A BIG IF
If the Three League operates the Decatur club will be managed by Albe White, a pitcher who won 17 and lost only five for Mobile in 1941.

NOW SHAGS FLIES
The aircraft industry lost a defense worker when Oris Hockett signed for a trial with Cleveland. He's a slugline outfielder.

Pomona Grange Members Meet

Sessions Are Held Saturday
At East Brook U. P.
Church

Lawrence County Pomona Grange met Saturday, February 14, at the East Brook United Presbyterian church as guests of the East Brook Grange, with morning and afternoon sessions. The newly elected Pomona Master William H. McCullough presided.

The highlight of the morning session was the presentation made by the worthy Pomona Chaplain J. Audley Book of a past master's jewel to the past Pomona Master W. Sharp Fullerton, gift of Pomona. The main business of the sessions was the presentation of the year's projects by the worthy master and the committee chairman.

The masters of East Brook Grange, Charles Cornman, Jr., extended a welcome to those in attendance and John Kyle, master of the North Beaver Grange, responded.

The closing feature of the morning session was a talk by Miss Bonella Gordon Home Economics Extension representative of the county, on the subject of "Nutrition for Health." Miss Gordon stated that when men were enlisted for service because of undernourishment, bad teeth, and other physical defects. Nothing was done about it until the first World War when some money was appropriated for it. In the present war much is being done to show us where the weaknesses are and what can be done about them. We must concentrate on eating a variety of foods. Miss Gordon presented a chart showing the various foods necessary for one day's eating and how much of each. She said that when we are building a body, we must put into the building enough of the right materials. She suggests that the housewife do her shopping with a plan.

Miss Mary Beatty in a reading, "Mrs. Chataway at the Grocery," showed how shopping is done without a plan.

At noon, dinner was served by the host grange to about one hundred and twenty-five.

Afternoon Session
To open the afternoon session, Wesley Davy, chairman of the Consumer committee of the Local Council of Defense, was presented. Mr. Davy told how the granges can cooperate. He told some of the duties of the local committee. By action of the grange, Mr. Davy was invited to be present at the Pomona meetings at any time to present information about his work.

Miss Lillian Martin of Liberty Grange, whose essay "The Grange Defense Against Rural Accidents" won first place in the state safety essay contest, was present and read her essay to the group.

The main speaker of the day was William L. Rainey of Grove City, who spoke on the theme, "A Democracy in Action." Mr. Rainey said that only in a democracy can people openly express their objections to the actions of those in places of authority. He took us back in memory to the writing and adopting of our Declaration of Independence which marked the beginning of new nation. History is nothing more nor less than a record of the past on which we can build a better future. He selected some of the crises our nation has come through and pointed out how we always worked toward a better democracy. Even in today's crisis we are fighting to save the hide of America and for our very existence as a democracy.

The next Pomona meeting will be held Saturday, March 14, at New Bedford.

HELPING HANDS CLASS PARTY
Mrs. Gladys Patterson and Mrs. Lois Shellenbarger were pleasing hostesses to members of the Helping Hands class of East Brook U. P. church on Tuesday evening, Feb. 10, when they entertained in the latter's home.

The entertainment was arranged by Lillian Edie and Gladys Shellenbarger. Games, contests and stunts were enjoyed by all the members. Awards went to Lois Shellenbarger, Mrs. Walton, Margaret Bodden, Evelyn Miller, Esther Shaffer and Helen Bricker.

After the games were over, each member was pleasantly surprised by a nice valentine from her secret pal. A delicious lunch was served by the hostesses.

EAST BROOK NOTES
Mrs. Norman Seamans spent Sunday with friends in Warren. O. Mrs. A. E. McCreary spent a few days with Mrs. Margaret Houston. Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Pontius visited at the home of Clyde Gormley, of the Harlansburg road, on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Taylor and son, Kent, of Cleveland, O., spent the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. McKee.

Mexican Hat-Charity
Ball Trim-Missing

Among the decorations at the Charity Ball at New Castle Field club Saturday night were a number of Mexican hats, a few of which were valuable ones loaned by their owners for this occasion, and one of these is missing.

The committee believes the large genuine Mexican hat was taken by mistake along with a number of cheap straw hats that were given as souvenirs, and are much disturbed at its disappearance since this valuable hat must be returned to the persons who lent it to the Junior Guild for decoration purposes.

If you carried home this hat, please get in touch with Mrs. John McIlwraith, Hazletcroft avenue, phone 367.

The use of snuff is on the upgrade in the United States, according to Census figures. Latest reports show that the nation uses nearly 40,000,000 pounds of the sneeze-producer annually.

BRENNEMAN WINS HIGH MONEY AWARD

Of the $18,116 approved for payment by Auditor General P. Clair Ross, of Butler county, in premium awards to winning exhibitors of livestock at the 1942 Pennsylvania Farm Show, Charles L. Brenneman, of Washington township, will receive a total of $819.

In Shorthorn beef cattle awards, he will receive $630; in Guernsey cattle awards, his winning were $155; and in Shropshire sheep division, he will get $34.

Brenneman's winnings were probably as high as any other individual exhibitor at the show.

The tallest known tree in the world is the Pounder's Redwood tree in Humboldt State Redwood park, Humboldt county, California. This tree is 364 feet in height and has a circumference of 47 feet.

Spanish War Veterans Meet

Have Annual Dinner In Commemoration Of Sinking Of Maine

COULTER TELLS OF PHILIPPINE WAR

Rev. D. L. Ferguson, pastor of the Highland Presbyterian church, was the principal speaker at the Maine Day dinner of Daniel E. Leasure camp, Spanish-American War Veterans, held at the Y. M. C. A. Saturday evening in commemoration of the sinking of the battleship Maine in Havana Harbor by the Spaniards and which participated in the war with Spain.

Rev. Ferguson spoke in glowing terms of the accomplishments of the U. S. Army and Navy in that war and referred to the fact that it was at this time that the United States took over the Philippine Islands and other possessions then dominated over by Spain. He also called attention to the fact that the army was composed of volunteers, not a soldier having been drafted, and that this was the first time in history that such an army was organized and that perhaps another such army will never again be heard of. The speaker, a draftee in the first World War, said he hated war and all times would do all he could to prevent them, but that now that the country is at war he is all out for war and to win. He called attention to the fact that there is but one solution to war and that is God, and that the people of the United States or any other nation cannot expect to win a lasting peace without God and that they cannot forget Him and turn their back on God and then expect the Savior to be on their side.

The affair Saturday night was one of the best yet held by this organization and was largely attended. The affair opened with C. Ed Brown acting as master of ceremonies. After the singing of the "Star-Spangled Banner," with Miss Lois Otto at the piano, Rev. Ferguson returned thanks when a delightful dinner was served.

Little Jean Tribby, grand-daughter of Comrade Harry Ellenberger, accompanied by Deloris DiLorenzo at the piano, demonstrated her ability as a twirler and her efforts were well received. During the evening, with Miss Otto at the piano and Rev. Ferguson leading, the assembly sang "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp, the Boys Are Marching," which was very timely and greatly enjoyed.

Alex C. Coulter, who was with the Tenth Regiment during the Spanish-American War, gave an interesting talk of his experiences in the Philippines under the command of General MacArthur, and was present when the first American flag was planted on Wake Island. He told of his first battle upon arriving in the Philippines and other interesting events of that campaign. Mr. Coulter, together with others of this organization, saw a great deal of service on foreign shores, it being the first army ever to be sent from the United States to a foreign land.

The committee having the affair in charge received many compliments for the success of the affair.

New Castle Corporal Wins Award Of $500

By JOHN BALL
(Special News Correspondent)
CAMP SHELBY, Miss., Feb. 11.—An artilleryman of the 73rd Field Artillery Brigade recently enjoyed a furlough in Pennsylvania. By doing so, the soldier, Corporal James E. Temenski of New Castle, Pa., and a member of the second Battalion Service Battery, 190th Field Artillery, became a financier with "frozen assets."

Attending a church function with his girl friend Jeanne, Corporal Temenski was urged to buy a ticket at a church affair. He did and immediately forgot about it.

Several days after his arrival back in camp, this Pennsylvanian received a telegram. It read:

"Jimmie, you won the $500, with love, Jeanne."

Because the winner had to collect the award in person, Temenski tried to arrange for a three-day pass and plane tickets, round trip to Pennsylvania.

When the pastor Rev. V. V. Stanciewski of the St. Philip and James church in New Castle, learned that the local soldier could not get off to make the trip, he made a concession and sent the $500 check to the corporal by mail.

Whereupon Temenski went to the camp post office and purchased $300 in defense bonds and sent the rest of the money home to his fiancée, Miss Jeanne Ciechanski of New Castle, Pa.

Winter Scenes In State Forests Are Most Enchanting

(Special To The News)
HARRISBURG, Feb. 16.—The state forest recreational areas present an enchanting beauty during the winter months, according to Milford Bratton, director of parks, Department of Forests and Waters.

Trees are among the most beautiful living components in winter landscape, and the effectiveness of evergreens against the barrenness of the countryside is very noticeable. The type of branching of trees that have lost their leaves and the fine penciling of their twigs against the sky is appealing. New delights are found in viewing the striking contrast of greens and browns etched against snow-clad slopes. Here the lover of the out-of-doors will be able to identify trees by their shape, bark, designs and buds. Imprints and tracks in the snow enable one to learn many of the habits of the forest birds and animals.

The state forests are of especial interest aside from their utility value as the beauty of winter scenery provides no monotonous uniformity of vegetation. Care and anxiety are forgotten in the lone stillness.

The state forests of Pennsylvania belong to the people of the state. They are open at all times for proper use.

Landon Praises Churchill Speech

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—Alfred M. Landon praised Winston Churchill's radio address to the united nations today particularly that part of the prime minister's speech which touched on "unity" of the nations opposed to Hitler.

Landon said Hitler was playing the old game of telling the Americans "the English aren't doing their stuff," and "telling the English the Americans are lying down on the production job."

"Churchill made a very vital point when he said in effect that we must hang together for better or worse," Landon said. "There is no question about our final complete victory if we do that."

In the other war, the insiders watched eagerly for "Der Tag," this time it is "My Day."

Pennsylvania Vice President Reveals Local Groups Placed First

The Erie & Ashtabula division of the Pennsylvania Railroad finished first in Group C in the station department, first in Group B in freight and yard train service, and first in Group B in steam locomotive service in the Penns's 1941 president's safety contest. Vice President E. W. Smith disclosed at Pittsburgh today.

Superintendent J. W. Leonard, who succeeded J. E. Vandling as division head a short time ago, learned also that the Lake General division (which includes the E. & A. and the Cleveland) had taken first place in the contest among general divisions. A former E. & A. man, H. L. Nancarrow, heads the Lake General.

The Panhandle division at Pittsburgh, headed by another former E. & A. man—J. S. Gillum—also placed high in the annual safety competition.

Of a total of 21 first places, 11 went to the railroad's central region.

LET'S GET TOUGH ABOUT THIS WAR

We didn't ask for it. It was shoved down our throats. We're all darned mad, so let's get tough about it! Let's serve, work, give . . . with all the fighting fury that is our heritage as Americans. Say it again: "Let's get tough."
